Parents / Students:

Our primary goal as a comprehensive program is to become a group that performs well and displays an image of professionalism toward our craft. We want to reflect the commitment and self-discipline we have to our aim: making music for others! One of the ways we can show our cohesion as a group and regard for our audience is how we appear in concert dress. The group takes pride in their appearance and makes an effort to go beyond the ordinary to convey a message the audience that they are worthy of their attention and respect. With this in mind, we will observe the following “concert black” dress for the rest of the year at concert performances.
